

SUPPLEMENTARY DATA

Supplementary Figure 1. Study design of the randomized crossover trial. Participants used conventional blood glucose monitoring (control) for three months and the CGM system with remote monitoring (intervention) for three months in the order assigned at randomization. Outcome measures were collected at baseline and after completing each study arm.

