

Sweet Dreams: How Sleep and Sleep Disturbances Affect Glycemic Control in People With Diabetes

spectrum.diabetesjournals.org

■ FROM RESEARCH TO PRACTICE

2 Preface

Laurie Quinn and Cynthia Fritschi, Guest Editors

5 Physiology of Sleep

David W. Carley and Sarah S. Farabi

10 Type 1 Diabetes and Sleep

Sarah S. Farabi

14 Sleep Apnea in Type 2 Diabetes

Jimmy Doumit and Bharati Prasad

20 Effect of Sleep Disturbances on Quality of Life, Diabetes Self-Care Behavior, and Patient-Reported Outcomes

Eileen R. Chasens and Faith S. Luyster

■ FEATURE ARTICLES

24 A Nursing Approach to Self-Management Education for Individuals With Mental Illness and Diabetes

Mary Ellen Lawless, Stephanie W. Kanuch, Siobhan Martin, Denise Kaiser, Carol Blixen, Edna Fuentes-Casiano, Martha Sajatovic, and Neal V. Dawson

32 Conversation Maps and Diabetes Education Groups: An Evaluation at an Australian Rural Health Service

Sue Kewming, Angelo D'Amore, and Eleanor K.L. Mitchell

37 Effects of Self-Efficacy and Locus of Control on Future Preconception Counseling Plans of Adult Women With Type 1 Diabetes

Caroline M. Grady and Pamela A. Geller

■ DEPARTMENTS

44 Pharmacy and Therapeutics: Overview of Ocular Anti-Vascular Endothelial Growth Factor Therapy in the Management of Diabetic Eye Complications

Oluwaranti Akiyode and Christine Tran

50 Care Innovations: Case Study: Remission of Type 2 Diabetes After Outpatient Basal Insulin Therapy

Sierra C. Schmidt, Martha Ann Huey, and Heather P. Whitley

■ 2015 ADA HEALTH CARE AND EDUCATION PRESIDENTIAL ADDRESS

54 Diabetes Care and Research: What Should Be the Next Frontier?

David G. Marrero

■ 2015 ADA OUTSTANDING EDUCATOR IN DIABETES AWARD LECTURE

58 Making a Meaningful Difference: Learning From People, Practice, and Research

Linda M. Delahanty